Office Action Summary

Application No. 10/629,879		Applicant(s) MASAKI ET AL.
Examiner Christopher E. Mahoney		Art Unit 2851

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Double Patenting

Claim 3 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate of claim 2. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kandaka (U.S. Pub. No. 20030081722). Kandaka teaches a method for adjusting an optical system that has a multilayer mirror that includes a multilayer film, said method comprising the steps of: measuring wave front aberration of the optical system (step 4 of left column, figure 7); determining a condition to remove part of the multilayer film in the multilayer mirror so that the wave front aberration measured in said measuring step may reduce ("compute correction amount", figure 7); and removing the part of the multilayer film in the multilayer mirror based on the condition determined by said determining step ("Multilayer film correction processing", figure 7). Wherein the condition defines a removal area of the part of the multilayer film in the multilayer mirror (figure 17). As seen in figures 7 and 10, the steps of aberration detection and correction are repeated until an acceptable range is determined. Wherein the adjustment amount includes a position (paragraph 53) or angle (paragraph 218) of the multilayer mirror. The system utilized EUV (abstract). Sputtering (paragraph 159) and/or ion beam milling (paragraph 200) may be used to form the multilayer film. Once the aberrations are reduced/corrected to an acceptable level, the device is used to as an exposure apparatus to expose an object (figure 19).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
